

Brown Sugar Carrie Newcomer: A Musical Journey Through Life

Brown Sugar Carrie Newcomer is a name that has been taking the music industry by storm. Her soulful voice and poetic lyrics have captured the hearts of millions worldwide. From her humble beginnings in small-town Indiana to her rise as a critically acclaimed artist, Newcomer's journey is one of perseverance, creativity, and profound connection.

The Early Days

Carrie Newcomer was born and raised in Dowagiac, Michigan, surrounded by a close-knit family who shared a deep love for music. Her father, a carpenter and amateur guitar player, introduced her to the power of music at an early age. From folk to bluegrass, jazz to gospel, Newcomer's upbringing was steeped in various genres that would later influence her sound.

After moving to Indiana for college, Newcomer quickly immersed herself in the local music scene. Performing at coffee shops and open mic nights, she honed her craft and developed a sound that was uniquely her own. It wasn't long before her talent caught the attention of a small independent record label, and her journey as a professional musician began.

DANTE ALIGHIERI: THE VITA NUOVA

Translated by Thomas Okey

Edited and introduced by Joanna Finn-Kelcey

Dante Alighieri's Vita Nuova is his 'Book of Memory', the poetic account of his love for Beatrice Portinari. It is one of the great poetry books of love in world literature.

The Vita Nuova or New Life draws on (and is part of) the dolce stil novo, the 'sweet style' of Italian poets such as Guido Cavalcanti, Guido Guinicelli, Cino da Pistoia and other stilnovisti.

Dante was an admirer of love poetry (he praised Arnaut Daniel in the Divina Commedia). Among the influences on the Vita Nuova are, of course, the Bible (in particular the Psalms, the Song of Songs, Jeremiah's Lamentations and Christ's Passion). Other influences, apart from Classical thinkers, are Aelred of Rievaulx's De spirituali amicitia, and Peter of Blois's De amicitia christiana. Classical and earlier writers whom Dante read included Cicero (De amicitia) and Boethius (De consolatione).

The Vita Nuova, though, stands on its own in mediaeval literature. There is nothing else quite like it. Whereas Peter Abelard produced 'passionate self-exculpation' and Boethius was facing death, Dante wrote a creative autobiography, a record of his love and creative life up until the year 1294. Dante first met Beatrice at a party given by her father Folco Portinari, the Florentine banker, on Mayday, 1274. He was nearly nine; she was nearly eight. She was wearing a red dress, and was known as Bice, a shortened form of Beatrice.

The Vita Nuova relates the Dante-poet's experience of Beatrice in 25 sonnets, ballata, three canzoni and two incomplete canzoni consisting of one stanza and two stanzas in length. The Vita Nuova was the first book to link together poems and a prose commentary of an autobiographical and critical nature. The mixture of prose and poetry was known in mediaeval times as a prosimetrum narrative.

Includes the Italian text and an English translation, plus an and bibliography.
