

Four Diners Of The Apocalypse: An Aspie Girl In Massachusetts Diner Short Story

Massachusetts is known for its diverse and captivating diners. These establishments have become an integral part of the state's cultural fabric, providing a unique blend of comfort food and nostalgic ambiance. In this short story, we follow the journey of an Aspie girl as she explores four iconic diners during an apocalyptic landscape, unearthing both personal growth and a deeper understanding of human connection. This remarkable tale will take you on an emotional rollercoaster while highlighting the resilience and strength found within individuals who are neurodivergent.

The First Diner - Oasis Amidst Chaos

Our protagonist, Emily, finds herself at the entrance of "The Blue Willow Diner," an oasis amidst the chaos of a decaying world. With each step, she embraces the comforting scent of freshly baked apple pie and the welcoming atmosphere that envelopes her senses. As an Aspie girl, noise and sensory overload can be overwhelming, but here, she finds solace. The clinking of silverware and lively conversations become her lullaby, allowing her to traverse an otherwise daunting reality.

The Second Diner - A Haven for Reflection

At the heart of Massachusetts lies "The Ruby Emporium Diner," a nostalgic time capsule frozen in the 1950s. As Emily enters, the neon lights reflecting off the chrome furnishings create a kaleidoscope of colors against the backdrop of her thoughts. Here, surrounded by jukeboxes and old records, she loses herself in reflection, grappling with questions and emotions that are often misunderstood in a world that tends to focus on conformity.

The Third Diner - Unleashing Her Creativity

As Emily ventures into "The Artisan's Palette Diner," she steps into a haven for creativity. The walls adorned with paintings and sculptures speak to her innermost being, amplifying her ability to connect with the world in ways society deems unconventional. Surrounded by fellow artists and eccentric personalities, she discovers the power of self-expression and unleashes her own artistic talents, finding her voice beyond the realm of words.

The Fourth Diner - Embracing Human Connection

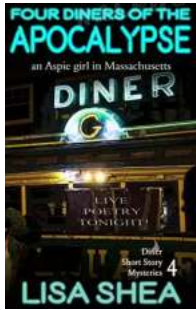

The final stop in Emily's quest is "The Diner of Infinite Possibilities," a sanctuary for conversations that transcend societal barriers. In a society shattered by the apocalypse, a diverse group of survivors gathers at this diner to share stories, dreams, and fears. Here, Emily fully embraces the power of human connection, finding solace in knowing that her Aspie perspective is not a hindrance but rather a unique lens through which she is able to understand and empathize with others.

"Four Diners of the Apocalypse: An Aspie Girl in Massachusetts Diner Short Story" is a captivating tale that explores the triumph of the human spirit amid chaos. Through Emily's journey, we witness the power of diners as more than just places to grab a meal — they become a refuge of self-discovery, acceptance, and connection. In a world overwhelmed by differences, this Aspie girl thrives, ultimately reminding us all that our unique perspectives and experiences hold immeasurable value.

Four Diners of the Apocalypse is the fourth book in the Diner Short Story Mysteries series. These short stories are about 15-20 pages each and feature authentic diners around Massachusetts. Author Lisa Shea goes to each diner personally to write up its sights, sounds, and aromas. That way you, the reader, can take a virtual vacation to these historic locations! Visit Lisa's webpages to see photos and write-ups of the diners. All of the Diner Mystery series contain no violence, no swearing, and no intimacy, so they are suitable for teens and up.

You can read the books one-by-one as they are released, or you can wait for the boxed sets to be published once the series gets enough books in it.

It's your choice! I try to write them right after I visit, so that's why there are sometimes gaps in the release schedule. It's not always easy to get to a diner when they're open!

A portion of all proceeds benefits battered women's shelters.
