Respecting the game means knowing the history of what you are getting into. You can't be fly-by-night because at the end of the day, your game affects your life as well as the other people involved. So being upfront is the way to go. No exceptions to this rule. Fair exchange is not robbery and to rob someone of their emotional wealth is never cool. Playas play. That's what we do. Point blank. Period. We're the "Kings of Hearts". The rules of being a playa are laid out in this book. Learn the rules. Know the rules. Play the game and never disrespect the game. To all the playahaters out there, "Don't hate the Playa, Hate the Game!"
